Now charging your devices will be even easier! Vention offers a cable that will save you both time and space! The dual connector is responsible for its wide compatibility, so you can freely charge both Micro USB and USB-C supporting devices! The cable supports popular fast charging protocols, and thanks to its robust design, it is sure to serve you for a long time! It is resistant to bending and wear, and a non-elastic material has been used between the USB-C and Micro USB connectors, which is resistant to breakage. What's more, the nickel-plated connectors won't rust and can withstand many charging cycles.

Thoughtful design

What makes the cable so special? It was designed specifically for users who use devices that support Micro USB and USB-C. The cable offers a USB 2.0 A connector on one side, while the other offers USB-C and Micro USB connectors, which you can use interchangeably!

Wide compatibility

You no longer need to carry a set of cables for all your devices. All you need is the Vention! The cable offers wide compatibility, so if you top up your smartphone, you can also charge tablets, readers, or headphones, etc. With the cable, you can also transfer files at 480 Mbps, which means you can transfer a 1GB file in as little as 30 seconds!

Safe use

You don't have to worry about your equipment. The use of the highest quality materials ensures high conductivity, and thanks to the use of a multiple braid, it guarantees stable voltage, protecting the batteries of the devices being charged. What's more, the cable supports popular fast charging protocols, so their charging, although fast, will be completely safe!
